Information About Cookies

Due to the entry into force of the modification of the "Law on Information Society Services" (LSSICE) established by Royal Decree 13/2012, it is mandatory to obtain the express consent of the user of all web pages that use unnecessary Cookies, before the user navigates them.

1.- Definition and function of cookies

A cookie is a file that is downloaded to the user's computer/Smartphone/Tablet (device) when accessing certain web pages to store and retrieve information about browsing. Cookies and other similar technologies such as local shared objects, flash cookies, or pixels, are tools used by Web servers to store and retrieve information about their visitors, browsing habits performed from said device, as well as to offer proper functioning of the site. Through the use of these devices, the Web server is allowed to remember some data concerning the user, such as their preferences for viewing the pages of that server, username and password, products of interest, etc.

Depending on the information it contains and the way the device is used, the user could be recognized. For more information about cookies, our entity invites you to access the following link:

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/HTTP_cookie.

2.- Types of Cookies According to Purpose

Technical and functional cookies: these allow the user to navigate through a web page, platform, or application and use the different options or services that exist.

Analytical cookies: these allow those responsible for them to track and analyze the behavior of users of the websites to which they are linked. The information collected through this type of cookies is used to measure the activity of the websites, application, or platform and to create browsing profiles of the users of such sites, applications, and platforms, in order to introduce improvements based on the analysis of the usage data that users make of the service.

Advertising cookies: these allow the most effective possible management of the advertising spaces that the editor has included on a web page, application, or platform from which the requested service is provided based on criteria such as edited content or frequency in which ads are displayed.

Behavioral advertising cookies: these collect information about the user's personal preferences and choices (retargeting) to allow for the most effective possible management of the advertising spaces that the editor has included on a web page, application, or platform from which the requested service is provided.

Social cookies: these are established by social media platforms in services to allow you to share content with your friends and networks. Social media platforms have the ability to track your online activity outside of the Services. This can affect the content and messages you see on other services that you visit.

Affiliate cookies: these allow tracking of visits from other websites, with which the website establishes an affiliate contract (affiliate companies).

Security cookies: these store encrypted information to prevent data stored in them from being vulnerable to malicious attacks by third parties.

3.- According to Ownership

First-party cookies: these are those that are sent to the user's terminal equipment from a computer or domain managed by the publisher itself and from which the requested service is provided by the user.

Third-party cookies: these are those that are sent to the user's terminal equipment from a computer or domain that is not managed by the publisher but by another entity that processes the data obtained through cookies.

4.- According to Storage Period

Session cookies: these are a type of cookies designed to collect and store data while the user accesses a web page.

Persistent cookies: these are a type of cookies in which the data remains stored on the terminal and can be accessed and processed during a period defined by the cookie controller, which can range from a few minutes to several years.

5.- Processing of Personal Data

7.- Third-Party Services

Our website contains links to third-party websites, whose privacy policies are not related to the entity. By accessing such websites, you can decide whether to accept their privacy and cookie policies. As a general rule, if you browse the internet, you can accept or reject third-party cookies from your browser's settings options.

8.- Acceptance of the Cookie Policy

By browsing our website, you can access our Cookie Policy at any time, which is located at the bottom of any page. This will allow you to take the following actions at any time:

- Accept cookies. This notice will not be displayed again when accessing any page of the portal during the current session.
- Modify settings. You can obtain more information about what cookies are, learn about the Cookie Policy and modify your browser settings to restrict or block cookies at any time. Please note that if you restrict or block cookies, some website functionalities may be reduced.
- Continue browsing or move the scroll bar: in which case we consider that you accept their use.

9.- How to Manage Cookies from the Browser

Deleting cookies from the device

Cookies that are already on a device can be deleted by clearing the browser history, which removes cookies from all visited websites.

However, some saved information may also be lost (for example, login data or website preferences).

Managing specific site cookies

To have more precise control over the specific cookies of each site, users can adjust their privacy and cookie settings in the browser.

Blocking cookies

Although most modern browsers can be configured to prevent cookies from being installed on devices, this may require manual adjustment of certain preferences each time a site or page is visited. In addition, some services and features may not work properly (for example, profile logins).
